• Caving and Cave Biology:

- ◆ Led a robust University research lab with major focus on caves, bats, aquatic systems, conservation
- ◆ Extensive experience in caving, including vertical caving.
- ◆ Led caving expeditions (most notably three expeditions to southern Belize).
- ◆ Led multi-day trips by research teams, related to cave biology (Nevada, Utah, Illinois, Missouri, Texas, Tennessee, California).
- ◆ Participated in numerous caving expeditions (team efforts in which I was not the lead) in addition to the above (Mexico, Galapagos Islands, Hawaii, Brazil, Texas, New Mexico, California).
- ◆ Caving experience in numerous countries (Mexico, Brazil, Ecuador, Greece, Slovenia, Bahamas, Australia) and US states (Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, Colorado, California, Hawaii, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Texas – probably forgot some!)

Other Info

- Non-smoker, no drugs other than (lots of) coffee
- I drink so little it is rare for me to have 1/2 a beer. Usually I have water when others drink
- Relationship Status: Was married 20 years, wife died of pancreatic cancer. Currently in a relationship.
- I serve on Board of Directors of two 501(c)3 non-profits and have done volunteer data analysis for one other and served as science advisor for a fourth nfp.
- Former Vice-Commodore of Communications, Pamlico Plantation Yacht Club (2021–2022)
- I can't lift heavy things (bad back)
- I can get seasick in big water (have not thrown up, it has been years since I got sick), but the new Scopolamine patches deal with this nicely.

Other Info, continued

- I continue to dabble in biological research, and am sometimes working on a peer-reviewed scientific paper or two on the side, with collaborators
- I enjoy playing ukulele, my skill level is “campfire”.
- I take a lot of pictures

Aspirations

Life is short, I want to continue having meaningful, rich and satisfying experiences by exploring the USA & world through various adventures, including aboard boats. I'm keen to forge many new friendships with people from almost anywhere, and also with their furry companions.
